

30,000ft² building available for a dedicated large chapel, new labs, classrooms, and 100 parking spaces for students and faculty.

DOWNTOWN ESCONDIDO

Campus Expansion Opportunity

The University currently owns two building in downtown Escondido. A critical and large piece of contiguous real estate has just come on the market. It is an ideal opportunity with 30,000ft² on 1.25 acres and 100 parking spaces. The property allows for our planned significant growth.

Large Chapel – A Top Priority

This property will house a large chapel, which will meet our Mass needs for the next decade. Students list the lack of a dedicated chapel as the most significant drawback at JPCatholic. Please help us solve this problem now.

Other Space Priorities

As the University grows – it needs larger spaces for classrooms, film soundstages, an editing lab, screening room, acting lab, a performance stage as well as lots of parking. This real estate delivers critical room for growth.

“ This is truly a most critical piece of real estate for JPCatholic to acquire. It is very large and contiguous. If we miss this opportunity – we will miss an ideal piece of real estate. ”

– DR. DERRY CONNOLLY // FOUNDING PRESIDENT

SCHOOL OF Creative Arts and Business

Since 2006, JPCatholic has developed a strong competitive position in the Cinematic Arts. We are now broadening our academic focus to establish a transformational School of the Creative Arts & Business to inspire creativity, innovation, conceptual, and entrepreneurial thinking in a collaborative environment at the intersections of academic disciplines which constitute the Creative Arts and Business.

Global Milieu

Our global cultures, which underpin the ways we understand the world and see our place in it, are greatly influenced by the often-intangible products and services of the creative economy.

The Creative Arts underpin this rapidly growing economy, which is a powerful transformative force causing substantial cultural impact in our world.

New innovations and disruptive technologies are catalyzing entrepreneurial firms in the creative industries, transforming the processes to create, market, distribute, and consume creative products and services.

Culture Impacting Curriculum

The multi-disciplinary curriculum will offer in-depth learning to inspire the imagination and produce a new generation of disruptive, creative and innovative Catholic and Christian thought leaders, across a multitude of culture impacting academic disciplines.

Biblical Theology Timeline

Mastering the Sacred Page

Students, in approaching the study of Scripture and Theology, are guided by an in-depth study of the writings of the fathers and doctors of the Church. In particular, students gain a thorough formation in the philosophy and theology of St. Thomas Aquinas, the saint whom the Church calls the Common Doctor.

The program stresses academic excellence, engagement with contemporary academic debates, and the need for the theologian to become a master of the sacred page.

Funding Needs

- Hire new theologians
- Provide student scholarships
- Construct chapel, classroom, and office facilities

A Focus on Sacred Scripture

Pope Benedict XVI frequently stressed the need for a biblically based approach to theology.
